

Professional website for your business at reasonable prices.

There are over 4 million western foreigners living in Japan and a solid portion of foreign nationals either managing a business, running a language school or are employed in a foreign owned business.

Most of those businesses that profit from their daily transactions are those that already have a professional [English & Japanese] bilingual website that is responsive to smart phones, tablets and of course PCs. In order to stay on top of your game and yield profit in your business, get your website created in a professional way. For a reasonable budget, we can register your unique URL and get your website up and running in a few days.

KCC International Ltd in Osaka Japan, has over 9 years of experience in building and constructing English & Japanese websites and is happy to help you get your website up and running.
